PROFILE

Adaptable backend engineer who enjoys understanding how systems work at a deeper level and using that knowledge to solve practical, real-world problems. Curious, analytical, and willing to learn new languages, technologies, and platforms to meet both engineering and business needs. Interested in backend and platform engineering roles focused on building reliable services and improving how systems work for users and teams.

EXPERIENCE

Advanced Turf Solutions: Software Engineering Intern

JUN 2025- JAN 2026

- Developed and maintained an internal Salesforce pricing tool to improve pricing accuracy and reduce manual reporting.
- Built Apex classes, triggers, and controller logic to automate pricing workflows and manage data across Salesforce objects.
- Implemented backend validation, calculations, and multi-scenario pricing logic using Apex, JavaScript, and C#.
- Collaborated with senior engineers on REST API integrations, authentication, CI/CD workflows, testing, and production releases.

PROJECTS

TCP Networking Project | Java

- Developed a TCP-based client-server communication system using socket programming and structured message handling.
- Applied networking concepts involving connection reliability, packet flow, and backend communication.

Pricing Summary Tool (Fork) | JavaScript + Apex

- Explored and modified an existing pricing tool to understand data flow and UI logic.
- Shows the ability to read, extend, and refactor existing codebases.

DevOps Automation Scripts | JavaScript

- Created scripts to automate repetitive development tasks and streamline engineering workflows.
- Applied scripting and developer tooling concepts to reduce manual processes and improve efficiency.
